TRAFFIC INCREASE

SOUTHERN PACIFIC AND SALT LAKE PLACE ADDITIONAL TRAINS IN SERVICE

Four additional passenger trains will be placed in service March 1st by the Southern Pacific to care for the rapidly increasing traffic. Two of the new trains will operate between San Francisco and Los Angeles and two between New Orleans and Los Angeles.

With this announcement by the Southern Pacific and the statement by General Traffic Manager Wann of the Salt Lake, who returned Tuesday from Chicago, that his road has booked between fifty and sixty special trains for movement during the year, the era of enormous transcontinental traffic seems approaching.

"All roads running west of Chicago are making preparations for an enormous traffic following March 1, the date that the special California rates go into effect," said Mr. Wann. "At our Chicago offices the calls for our folder, 'Los Angeles, the Gateway City,' average 250 a day. In addition to hundreds of special trains booked for westbound movement during the year, practically all the roads are planning to put on additional regular trains."

Meaning both bettered service over the Coast line and through the San Joaquin valley, the old fast valley passenger train, No. 50, will be restored to service by the Southern Pacific at the same time that two new trains are put in service over the Coast line. The first-named train will make all important stops in the San Joaquin valley and will arrive in Los Angeles at 7:55 a. m.

The new trains on the Coast line will be known as the Seashore express trains. The northbound train will leave here at 5 p. m., while the southbound train is due here at 2:20 p. m. It is also planned under the new Southern Pacific time card to transfer the southbound Sunset Limited from the valley to the Coast line, arriving at Los Angeles at 7:45 a. m. Eastbound, a train to be known as the Sunset Express will leave Los Angeles at 3:30 p. m. daily, while a westbound train of similar name will arrive at 9:20 p. m. This will make two fast passenger trains in each direction between Los Angeles and New Orleans, and will also better service to the Imperial valley and through Arizona and New Mexico.

NO MERCENARY LOVER

"Sir," said the young man, with much respect, "I know that you are a millionaire, and that I am poor. It seems presumptuous in me to aspire to the hand of your daughter. But I have thought the matter out, and with some diffidence I have resolved to make my request. Love, sir, is not bound by sordid considerations or by mere social convenience. I have a very real attachment for your daughter, and I pray that you will put no obstacle in the way of our early marriage."

The old man seemed interested in the young fellow and inclined to listen.

"Quite so," said he. "As you know, I am not in the habit of sticking at trifles, provided the main purpose is straight. But which of my girls do you want?"

The young man breathed a sigh of relief and courteously replied: "Oh, I'll leave that to you, sir."—Pall Mall Gazette.

JOKE ON THE FRESHMAN

Funny things are bound to happen in freshman classes in any school, but one happened at the local school the other day which seems to tickle everyone who has heard it, so we will pass it on:

A freshman boy was discussing the law—its powers—its rewards—and the like—when he spoke of the famous law-bearer, Harry Thaw. He then made mention of the fact that it took excavation papers to remove Thaw from Canada. Of course, the teacher had to inform him that he meant extradition papers, but the boy still wonders why the class laughed.

SUPPLY TANK REMOVED

The gasoline supply tank situated at the corner of Brand and Broadway, which was a bone of contention for some time, has been removed by the Macdonald Transfer company.

NORTH GLENDALE

MR. AND MRS. MENZO WILLIAMS ENTERTAIN WITH PICNIC AT GRIFFITH PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Menzo Williams of North Central avenue, assisted by Mrs. Eva Jessie Barnes of Pasadena, entertained with a picnic party at Griffith park on Monday in honor of Mr. C. F. Ferber of Scranton, Pa., who is a house guest of Mrs. Barnes and who is well known as one of the prominent promoters of Scranton. The party, sixteen in number, motored over to the park, with the exception of Mrs. Williams' daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peterson of Mountain street, who went over on horseback. The day was spent rambling over the park, enjoying the beautiful scenery, seeing the animals in captivity over there, and all were ready for the bountiful dinner, cooked on the range out of doors, which consisted of beefsteak, fried onions, baked potatoes and coffee, supplemented by the good things brought in the hampers from home. Mr. Ferber is charmed with California and thinks it is very beautiful, and that there are great opportunities here. He has already purchased extensive ranch property at Fresno, and his friends expect him to return and locate in Southern California. Those who enjoyed the happy occasion were Mrs. Eva Jessie Barnes, Mr. F. C. Ferber, Mrs. Jane Clemens, Miss Eleanor Clemens, Miss Kathryn Clemens and Mrs. Clara Smith, all of Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Metcalf of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. R. Drew, of Venice; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peterson, Miss Ellen B. Williams, Miss Nellie Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Menzo Williams, all of North Glendale, and Mrs. Williams' niece and house guest, Miss Emma Jones of Scranton, Pa.

The beautiful residence on North Brand boulevard which is being built by Mr. S. W. Corwin for Mr. John Barr of Valley View road, is about completed and in a very short time will be occupied by Mr. Barr's sister, Mrs. Bardill, and family, who are at present living in Los Angeles. The coming of Mrs. Bardill and her family to this vicinity will be a welcome addition indeed.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Bott of West Avenue Twenty-four, Los Angeles, were guests of their daughter, Mrs. L. C. Leeds, and family, 900 Dryden street, the first of the week.

Mrs. Frank Gardener and son, Mr. F. L. Gardener, of Grand View street, Los Angeles, motored to North Glendale the early part of the week and were guests for the day of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. West of 1333 Valley View road.

Mr. Gordon Corwin, who for the past two months has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Corwin of 419 North Central avenue, left Wednesday morning for the northern part of the state in the interests of his business, he representing one of the largest life insurance companies in the United States.

Mrs. Delos Jones of 524 Louise street went to Pasadena Wednesday to visit her mother, who starts today for an extended stay in Arizona.

Miss Mary Bumgarner of 2233 Park boulevard, Long Beach, was the mid-week house guest of the Misses Wright of 1649 Ruth street.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Corwin of 419 North Brand boulevard are entertaining as their house guests for the week Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Smith of Grass Lake, Mich., who are touring Southern California and who will visit the fairs before returning to their eastern home.

SHOW MOTORISTS CITY

Many people have commented very favorably upon the article published in The News a few days ago advocating the improvement of East Broadway as far as Eagle Rock road. Many have expressed the conviction that we have been negligent in this matter too long. We seek for ways to advertise Glendale and yet the many motorists who pass through the city rarely see the business part of the city. While there are many pretty homes on Colorado boulevard, the principal auto road through the city, strangers can get no adequate idea of the beauty and the importance of Glendale as they could by passing through the business part of Glendale. Let us get busy and remedy this matter at once.

QUITE CORRECT

A girl in mediaeval and modern history class over at the high school the other day, when asked what the Black Death was, nonchalantly answered: "Oh, it was terrible!"

HAVE BRIGHT HOPES

LARGE BODY OF STUDENTS TO LEND INSPIRATION FOR THIS EVENING

(By Publicity Com.)

In spite of one of the most terrific downpours this season, over 125 people floated into the huge tabernacle Wednesday afternoon—all expectant to hear the second address on "The Ministry and Work of the Holy Spirit," but owing to the noise of the rain on the roof of the big meeting house, Evangelist Brown thought it best not to risk straining his voice in competition with the tremendous noise of pouring water. Most of the local ministers, however, navigated to the front and in hearty testimony gave thanks to God for the splendid work of the evangelists in our midst and also expressed a bright hope for the future of the big meeting, which is less than two weeks old.

Brother Curry conducted this informal meeting with grace and sweetness and several of the good sisters and laymen assisted with testimony and prayer, the leader finally closing with a very tender message. While all expressed their disappointment in not hearing the famous evangelist, all were agreed that the short rest was well earned. This is one of the few times in his wonderful ministry Brown has failed to turn up, rain or shine.

At the evening service Rev. L. C. Kirkes of Eagle Rock led in prayer, followed by a telling message in song by Mr. Brown. The theme of the solo was old John 3:16.

Rev. 22:17 was chosen as a text by the preacher.

"And the Spirit and the bride say, 'Come.' And let him that heareth say, 'Come.' And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely."

The speaker referred to his text as the last invitation in the last book of the Bible.

The Spirit and the bride, not the Spirit or the bride, say, 'Come.' The Spirit works through the church and the church cannot work independent of the Spirit. The two must work in conjunction.

The secret of the conversion of thousands on Pentecost is not discovered in the eloquence of Peter; it was the direct result of the operation of the Holy Ghost.

Brown made it clear that he never felt that it was his work to convict the sinner. At one period of his life he confessed to have used more perspiration than inspiration in his preaching, pounding and shouting the gospel into sinners, but after breaking down with nervous prostration he came forth realizing more deeply that it is not by human might nor by human power, but by the Spirit of the Lord must the work be done.

We get results by depending on the Holy Spirit. It is the work of the Spirit to convict of sin.

Next in order the bride, which is the church, was dealt with. Brown honors the church in all of his messages. His great heart loves the bride of Christ with more than ordinary devotion. His experience in the Frisco wreck taught him that while lodges will help their own, the church has room for all independent of what the condition or standing of the needy may be.

"I just love the church that puts its arms around the whole world and swings wide the door for every man to enter who will!"

As for the man who says he will never join the church till it is absolutely pure, to such a fellow Brown says: "You will have died and been in hell a million years before you will find a perfect church on earth. The church militant does not become the church triumphant till safe in glory."

"I wish we all loved the church more, understood better her mission, and stood for lifting higher and higher her standard."

Individual responsibility was emphasized in "Let him that heareth say, Come."

The text does not say let him that heareth "nod at the sinner," nor does it say, "let him that heareth shake hands with the sinner," an operation that sometimes results in great help to the outsider, it is true. It is sometimes possible to shake the devil out of a man with a big pump-handle shake, like they give folks back in Texas and Arkansas. "Those dignified folks who stick up their hand high in the air and offer you two fingers like the tail of a catfish, make me feel like spitting. The most dignified thing in the whole world is an embalmed corpse."

Recognition in heaven is all right, but the need of the hour is more recognition of one another on earth.

Neither does the text say, "Pray, come." Prayer without hands and feet and lips amounts to nothing. "Say, come!" The gospel in four letters. Here the evangelist men-

STREETS ARE DAMAGED

WEDNESDAY'S RAINFALL CAUSE OF MORE DAMAGE TO STREETS THAN PREVIOUS STORMS

Wednesday's rain did more damage to the streets of Glendale than any previous rain in the way of washing out great gullies in places where the streets are not improved or in places where the improved surface has been worn off. On the east side of Brand boulevard between First and Second streets there is a bad wash-out, and on the north side of Third street, between Brand boulevard and Orange street, there is another bad wash. There is a lighting standard at the northwest corner of the street intersection of Third and Brand boulevard that is being undermined by the water at the time of heavy rains. It is only the well-built streets that stand the effects of the flood waters.

In spite of the fact that the rain seemed to come down in sheets for a time Wednesday, the fall for the storm was only eighty-six hundredths of an inch, which brings the total for the season up to 16.68 inches, as against 27.06 inches for the same date last year.

Following is a tabulated report of the rainfall for this season in Glendale, according to H. E. Bartlett:

JEWEL CITY RESTAURANT IMPROVEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Easton of the Jewel City Restaurant have found it necessary on account of their large and rapidly growing business to make some changes and improvements in the building at 556 West Broadway, where their business is located. The front of the building has been remodeled and a new brick siding on the west enlarges the capacity of the room. The entrance is now at the northwest corner of the room.

The furniture will be arranged to better advantage so that more patrons can be accommodated at one time. The Jewel City Restaurant has been catering to the wants of an ever-increasing hungry throng, good service, good cooking and reasonable charges being responsible for their success.

BIG PURCHASE BY PIGEON LOFTS

The Glendale Pigeon Lofts, located on Verdugo road near Colorado boulevard, a few days ago purchased the entire pigeon lofts belonging to the Elliott Brant ranch at Owensmouth. The purchase, comprising about 1800 birds, will be brought to the Glendale Pigeon Lofts.

tioned how in political campaigns it is the custom to go after people. It is an unwritten law of the medical fraternity that every discovery must be proclaimed without money and without price to all the human family. It is a written law of the gospel that we go into the highways and hedges and bid all men to come.

"And let him that is athirst come." We must be in touch with the fountain.

"And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely." God is always ready if we are but willing. The darkie preacher said, "God votes for you, the devil votes against you, which makes a tie; your vote decides the election."

Tonight will be for the high school a great occasion. The students will attend the tabernacle in one large body. Those who attended the meeting at Long Beach will not soon forget the singing and enthusiasm generated by the students of the high.

Tropico night is announced for Friday.

Men's prayer meeting at 7 o'clock in the Baptist church. Regular services each day at 2:30 and 7:30. Don't forget the hymn book.

TROPICO ITEMS

MRS. ELIZABETH ANDERSON TO BE LAID TO REST AT FOREST LAWN

The funeral obsequies of Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, mother of Miss Anna Anderson and Miss Elsie Anderson of Virginia place, will be held at Forest Lawn cemetery tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Services will be conducted by Dr. R. T. Smith of the Tropico Methodist Episcopal church, of which Mrs. Anderson was a member.

It will be remembered that Mrs. Anderson passed away May 11th in 1913. At the time of the sudden passing of this good woman, Miss Anna Anderson, her eldest daughter, was recovering from a long illness and was convalescing at Venice. Mrs. Anderson and her daughter, Miss Elsie Anderson, were in Venice with Miss Anna and while walking along Windward avenue Mrs. Anderson was struck by an automobile and passed away in less than half an hour after the distressing accident.

The remains were placed in the vault at Forest Lawn cemetery to await the recovery of Miss Anderson, when they would be taken to Cincinnati, Ohio, there to be interred in the family lot in Spring Grove cemetery beside those of her husband and other members of the family.

While awaiting the transportation of the remains of their mother, the weeks have grown into months and now almost two years have elapsed, and as the Misses Anderson will remain indefinitely in Tropico, we have decided to consign to Mother Earth all that remains of their beloved mother, hence tomorrow afternoon the interment will occur.

Following these last rites, Homer Anderson, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson of Sierra Madre and nephew of Misses Anderson, will be conveyed from Evergreen cemetery, Los Angeles, and placed beside those of his grandmother. Friends invited to attend.

The Fraternity Ideal club of Los Angeles met at the home of Mrs. S. E. Luppen, 420 North San Fernando boulevard, Wednesday. A most delicious luncheon was served at noon. Cards were enjoyed during the afternoon. Mrs. F. P. Bohanon received first prize, Mrs. D. T. Nigh second, and Mrs. H. H. Boock consolation.

Mrs. Tuppen's guests included Mrs. Ella Pealer, Mrs. H. H. Boock, Mrs. E. H. Boyd, Mrs. F. P. Bohanon, Mrs. Betina Wilkinson, Mrs. D. T. Nigh, Mrs. C. L. Bush, Mrs. Lydia Hadley, Mrs. Annetta Lypps, Miss Martha Crandall, Miss Aileen Taylor and Miss Vera Hadley.

MOUNTAIN CLIMBER WITH US

Edmund Jaeger, formerly a special teacher in the Pasadena schools, addressed a number of classes at the high school Wednesday afternoon on "The Lure of the Mountains." Mr. Jaeger's address was made very interesting through the display of a great number of colored stereoscopic views which were secured in trips through the high Sierras and other mountain ranges in Southern California. Mr. Elliot Colby, a local boy, accompanied the lecturer on his last trip. At the present time Mr. Jaeger is recuperating at the Glendale sanitarium after too strenuous mountain climbing. The lecture was indeed interesting, especially to boys planning on mountain trips this summer.

TO ATTEND "MISSION PLAY"

More than four hundred Glendale students are planning to attend the "Mission Play" at the mission playhouse in San Gabriel next Monday. Special rates are made to students in parties and many schools in this vicinity are taking advantage of this opportunity to impress the historical facts with which the play abounds upon the minds of the students.

JITNEY MAN HELD UP

Even the jitney bus men are subject to hold-ups... In Los Angeles on Wednesday night a man named Fox was on his way home with his jitney auto when three men boarded his car as passengers and when well seated, one of the strangers slugged Mr. Fox and the others joined in the attack upon him. However, Fox foreseeing his fate, broke away from the men, leaped from the auto and ran, pursued by the hold-up men. He dodged behind a large tree and after playing hide-and-go-seek with his pursuers for a few seconds, he ran back to his auto, started it and fled for home. Twelve ugly lacerations on his face and head were the result of the encounter with the strangers.

Mrs. Barnett of Oakland is making an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Cohn of 110 Orange street.

I. O. G. T. CONVENTION

GLENDALE GOOD TEMPLARS ATTEND DISTRICT MEETING IN PASADENA

The 120th session of the ninth district lodge, I. O. G. T. of California, was held in Good Templar hall, 34 East Colorado boulevard, Pasadena, on Monday, February 22. The meeting was called to order shortly after 10 a. m. by J. P. Fansett of Glendale, who is district counselor. W. K. Jeffs, district chief templar, came in soon after and took the chair.

The following six lodges were represented: Svea No. 2 of Pasadena, Glendale No. 46, Pasadena No. 173, Los Angeles No. 217, Santa Monica No. 292 and Merrill No. 299 of Los Angeles. Reports showed a gain in all of the lodges represented.

Owing to the recent rains the delegates did not go to Brookside park, as had been previously arranged, instead tables being set in the hall and the Pasadena ladies served hot coffee. After lunch all retired to see the ball game between Pasadena Good Templars and brothers from Merrill and Glendale lodges. The game proved most exciting and resulted in a score of 19 to 10 in Pasadena's favor.

The afternoon session opened at 2:30 and continued until 6:30. Work was planned for the coming quarter. This was the best attended district session ever held and plans were made for the next session in May in Los Angeles. The district degree was conferred upon five candidates in the evening, when a fine program was enjoyed. Mrs. P. E. Fuller sang "A Perfect Day," Mr. Swan of Los Angeles read an interesting paper, Theodore Kanous and O. W. Blain made speeches and Mr. Galbraith also read an excellent paper. There was plenty of good music. After the program all joined in the grand march and enjoyed games until a late hour.

Those from Glendale who attended were Mrs. Emma Reed, Miss Alice Watson, Robert Taylor and J. P. Fansett, who are district officers; Barbara Askeland, Mable Robbins, Raymond Fansett, Oden Askeland, Chas. Fromm, who were delegates, and Mrs. P. E. Fuller, Mrs. Annie Robbins, Jesse Wilkes, Gladys Fansett and J. T. Watson.

LOCAL WOMAN SPEAKER

The Los Angeles district board of the California federation of Women's clubs was entertained at luncheon yesterday by the South Pasadena Women's Improvement Association at their elegant new club house. Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, the president of the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon club was one of the speakers at the luncheon, her subject being, "Federation."

Mrs. Frank Stephens, chairman of the district federation was in charge of a fine program given after the luncheon. Although the skies were weeping copiously the club ladies comfortably and cozily esconced in the charming rooms of the new club house were not in sympathy with the elements as they enjoyed a very happy and a very profitable afternoon.

Among the prominent guests was Mrs. Bentley, well known club woman of Illinois who has expressed her intention of attending the federation day program of the Tuesday afternoon club to be held March 23, good reports from this well known club having reached her in her eastern home.

HONORS MOTHER

Mrs. Frank R. Thomas of 1308 Arden avenue entertained eight ladies with a luncheon on Wednesday in honor of her mother, Mrs. L. M. Veavey, who has recently come to make her home with her daughter. The decorations of rooms and table were in the national colors in honor of George Washington's birthday, and a very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by the ladies.

ENJOY MOTOR TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Braly of 205 North Brand boulevard enjoyed a delightful motor ride to the orange show at San Bernardino on Wednesday, making the complete trip in one day. Mr. and Mrs. Braly enjoyed the show immensely, especially the transplanted orange grove, the great displays of golden fruit on all sides from the different sections of the country; also the miniature packing house and the Santa Fe reproduction of their Kite Shaped track, with all the stations. There were over five thousand people in attendance from Riverside alone, as this was George Washington's birthday, and also the fortieth anniversary of the birth of the Washington navel orange, which was first grown in Riverside.

STEADY ADVANCE TOWARD EQUAL SUFFRAGE

In at least three more states of the American Union the question of adopting or rejecting equal suffrage constitutional amendments will be submitted to the voters next fall. These are New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts. The Arkansas senate has voted in favor of submission and concurrence is expected from the House. The Iowa senate also has voted for submission. In several other states full or limited suffrage for women is under legislative consideration. It is a reasonable probability that the question of equal suffrage will be submitted in five states next November; last November it went before the voters of seven states and was defeated in five. In all cases suffrage was shown to have made decided gains at the polls. That it is moving steadily forward cannot well be denied in the face of the facts.

At the present time women enjoy the right of suffrage on equal terms with men in eleven of the forty-eight states: Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming. Although when in 1913 the Illinois legislature granted women the right to vote for non-constitutional officers, it was claimed that equal suffrage had at length crossed the Mississippi river, this was not actually the case. The limited suffrage enjoyed by the women of Illinois is statutory and it would be possible for an unfriendly legislature to deprive them of the privilege at any time.

The territory of Alaska has granted suffrage to women. Women have suffrage on school questions in Connecticut, Delaware, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Vermont and Wisconsin. The states that defeated equal suffrage last fall were Nebraska, Missouri, Ohio, North Dakota and South Dakota.

As between New York and Massachusetts, competition for first place in the equal suffrage column east of the Mississippi has been quite sharp among the women's clubs. New Jersey now enters the contest. Whether one or two or all three of these Atlantic coast states will accept equal suffrage constitutionally next November remains to be seen; however, even though all three should reject it, the question must be conceded by even the foes of franchise for women to have become a fixed issue.

RELIGIOUS CENSUS IN THE UNITED STATES

Under the direction of a former agent of the federal census bureau, who has specialized for many years in collecting statistics of the kind, the federal council of churches (Protestant) for several years past has made it part of its duties to collect and publish figures that indicate approximately the annual growth in membership or adherents of all the religious sects of the United States. The 1914 estimates recently summarized and just published credit the country with having 38,708,149 persons so enlisted, a gain of two per cent over the total number of the previous year, making due discount for shrinkage from customary causes of loss. If the population of the country now be rated at 100,000,000, since in 1910 it was 91,972,266, it will be seen that about three-fifths of the population of the Republic is without church or synagogue affiliations, a proportion larger than formerly, and tending, unless checked, to induce a secular form of civilization.

Of the estimated 60,000,000 (plus) persons who now are not formally adherents of institutional religion, after excluding juveniles and the immature, many of them will be found to be deeply concerned with ethical and civic duties which they welcome with zest and perform with splendid loyalty. It is necessary to reckon with this fact in any estimate of the moral condition of the republic. Sudden transfer from a land of trammels and traditions and tyrannies often provokes hostile reactions to all religion by immigrants that are adjusting themselves to the liberties they find in the United States, reactions that in turn are revolted from as the individuals grow more mature and reflective. Not a few signs indicate that morality without religious sanction is not proving all that its practitioners have claimed it to be, and that religion can look forward expectantly to a renaissance.

The world war is a new factor making for this consummation, as it summons men to find a bond of agreement broad and deep enough to forbid action by any people that is other than loving and serviceable to the race.—Christian Science Monitor.

AIIDING THE DOCTOR

"It—er—seems," said he, regarding the unfortunate with scientific interest, "that the attacks of fever and chills appear on alternate days. Do you think—is it your opinion—that they have, so to speak, decreased in violence, if I may use that word?" The patient smiled feebly.

A charming little affair was the luncheon given Wednesday by Mrs. George H. Herald of 1218 West Ninth street for a number of her Ohio friends visiting in Southern California. Violets and kewpies very attractively adorned the table, while the living-room was a bower of the flaming acacia blossoms. ### SOLVING A PROBLEM

The arithmetic lesson that day had been hard and trying, and now, at the closing hour, Tommy stood before the teacher, waiting to hear the results.

"Your last problem was wrong," was the verdict. "You will have to stay after school and do it again." Tommy looked at the clock. "Tell me, please, how much am I out?" he asked.

"Your answer is two cents short." Tommy's hand dived into the pocket where his most treasured possessions were stored. Swiftly he separated two pennies from a bunch of shoestrings, a penknife and some marbles and pieces of chalk.

"I'm in a hurry, please," he said; "if you don't mind, I'll pay the difference."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

They left Monday morning for San Bernardino, where they enjoyed the orange show, then visited Redlands and Smiley Heights and proceeded the next day to Riverside, where they took in the many interesting sights, climbing Mt. Rubidoux by machine. They returned to Glendale Tuesday evening after a most pleasant outing.

MONTH OF HANGINGS

The month of April will go down in California's history as the month of hangings. The "death schedule" calls for the execution of five murderers during April. Two men will be hanged on April 16, two on April 23 and one on April 30, unless the present dates are changed.

Burr Harris and Louis Bundy will pay the death penalty on April 23. Harris will be executed at Folsom and Bundy at San Quentin. On April 16 Charles Oxnam and Glenn Witt, partners in crime, will be hanged, Oxnam at San Quentin and Witt at Folsom.

David Fountain, murderer of little Margaret Milling, will be hanged at Folsom on the last day in April.

At present there are three other murderers on the "death schedule" at the governor's office, but their cases are on appeal.

NEW YORK'S OLDEST TEACHER

Nathan Perry Beers, oldest teacher in the schools of the city of New York, is dead, after teaching some sixty-five years. Several of his pupils have become world-famous, including Colonel Goethals, canal builder; Ogden Mills, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, and others. Why should not the names of the teachers of great men and great women be made known? No biography of any eminent person really is complete and full justice is not done all who have had to do with bringing the eminent person to eminence, unless the names of the teachers of that person are given. Teachers are not always responsible for the greatness their pupils attain. But few persons rise to eminence who do not owe, in some measure, their success in life to their teachers. This venerable New York teacher who has just matriculated into the celestial school at the mellow age of ninety-two, was the first New York principal to abolish corporal punishment.

THE EXPLANATION

One afternoon a traveling salesman from a big city happened in the little town of Cranbury, N. J., and after completing his business, started to return to the railroad station, which is quite a distance from the town proper.

"Talk about towns," he breathlessly remarked to a native, as he eventually reached the platform; "this dump is certainly the limit!" "That's what they all say," indifferently responded the native, with a casual glance at the other.

"I've lost no end of good time beating it over that bloomin' road!" impatiently continued the salesman. "What do you suppose they put the station so far from the town for?"

"Durned if I know," carelessly answered the native, "unless they wanted to have it near the railroad track."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

FELT LIKE ONE OF THEM

"Tuther day," related old Dad Bing, the Oklahoma cattle baron, who is temporarily in our midst, "I was rumbling along in a street car, when a batch of young fellers got aboard. I judged they were college students by their funny clothes and queer-shaped heads. The car was pretty full, and they pushed and snorted back and forth in the aisle, tramping on people's feet and committing similar frivolities that-a-way. Bimeby they all r'ared back and fetched loose a long yell. Then the nearest one to me took a look, and not admiring my face or something, says:

"Well, my rural friend, don't you like it?" "Shore, I like it!" says I. "I'm half-witted myself!"—Kansas City Star.

SHREWD OLD MAN

"You're an old married man. What do you do when your wife begins to scold?"

"Encourage her. I talk back—discreetly, of course. I say tantalizing things. I make foolish excuses. I stammer and get husky."

"But doesn't that make her a good deal madder?"

"Of course it does. That's the intention. I want her to get so mad that she won't have any voice left to ask me for money."

"Gee! I wonder if I'll ever get as hardened as that!"—Brooklyn Eagle.

WORKING THE SYSTEM

"I'll clean th' snow off yer walk fer a quarter."

"Why, I just paid a quarter to have it cleaned!"

"Tain't half done."

"Come, come! That isn't a nice way to abuse a fellow-worker!"

"Oh, dat's all right! He's me pardner."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The only pleasing feature about the great war will be its ending.

IMPORTANCE OF THE MOTION PICTURE BUSINESS

The statement, coming from so good a source as the Financial News, that the motion picture industry rates fifth in importance in the United States, will come as a great surprise to those who have given little thought or attention to the industrial and financial side of the movies. As evidence of the magnitude of this comparatively recently created business, it may be pointed out that last year the output of domestic companies was 10,000 reels of negative films, from which were taken 300,000,000 feet of film, also that there is invested in the business $500,000,000. The number of moving picture theaters is almost 18,000. Still more amazing would be statistics showing the aggregate paid in salaries, and the total daily receipts of the picture houses.

This is a development of recent years; and even with these astounding figures, the business is in its infancy. Improvements that have taken place in these few years are but the beginning of the exploitation of a new vehicle of popular expression. The motion picture has supplanted rather than encroached upon the "legitimate" stage. It will also supplement the school and the newspaper and the magazine. Before long it may be the adjunct of the library. The short story in film is serving only as the introduction to the serial. What it takes days and weeks of geography, by following the printed text, may be grasped much more readily in a few minutes, when it is flashed before us in realistic scenes.

HAS NO LEPROSARIUM

The federal government of the United States maintains no leprosarium, says the public health service, hence those who would become leper nurses must look elsewhere for such employment. This statement is made by the service because it is being flooded with letters from persons all over the country who desire positions as guards, nurses, etc., in leper colonies. The health department issues the following statement concerning the location of colonies:

No leper colonies are maintained by the federal government. Institutions of this character have, however, been established under the control of the respective state, territorial or insular authorities, in the following places:

San Francisco, leper home, administered by the health officer, San Francisco.

Louisiana state leper home, administered by the board of control for leper home, New Orleans.

Massachusetts leper station, Penikese island, Mass., administered by the state commissioner of health of Boston.

Hawaiian leper colony, Molokai, Hawaii, administered by the secretary, territorial board of health, of Honolulu.

Philippine leper colony, Culion island, P. I., administered by the director of health, Manila.

Porto Rico leper colony, Cabras island, P. R., administered by the insular director of sanitation, San Juan, P. R.

The United States public health service has no knowledge of vacant positions in any of the above mentioned places.

LABELED

He—I wonder what the meaning of that picture is? The youth and the maiden are in a tender attitude. She—Oh, don't you see? He has just asked her to marry him. How sweet! What does the artist call the picture?

He (looking about)—Oh, I see—it's written on the card at the bottom—"Sold."—Seattle Star.
